

Custom UK
Online Journals
Your Library, Your Choice

50 Online Journals

For details of special offer, go to www.galeuk.com/customuk

RELEVANT, CURRENT.

You can ensure relevancy of content with this journal selection made by UK Public Librarians. The list covers in-demand general interest, professional, academic and trade journals. Examples are The Economist, Computer Weekly, Good Housekeeping, Journal of British Studies, New Scientist and The Book-seller. The list has recently been reviewed by existing public library customers with further relevant titles including The Spectator and The Grocer being added.

Backfiles extend as far as 1983. The database is updated daily with new editions being added as, or in some cases, before they are published.

The renowned Thomson Gale manual indexing process ensures that current events are tracked and immediately indexed allowing for accurate pinpointing of results by users. The subject guide index enables precise results to be easily obtained. A basic search option is of course available, as are the popular advanced search and publication search options.

Combined with our new technology platform, Thomson Gale PowerSearch, a solution is now available for cross-searching newspapers, journals and reference content in one easy process.

For further information, or a trial:
call +44 (0)20 7067 2500 or email enquiries@thomson.com